I am Taylor Ross, I'm in grade 10 FNS

This is what I think

Another dam means more damage to the environment. The environment suffered enough. People's self-being will tumble what they love to do. People lose hobbies like hunting trapping and fishing. We carry this for our cultural-wisdom our people love our way we've been doing this for generation. Not only our people suffered our animals suffered as well. Water is completely effected. We've been swimming and drinking but cannot do these things anymore.
