Hello,

I am writing to express my concern about the Sio Silica mining operation in Vivian, Manitoba.

A preliminary search of Sio Silica's airlift extraction method showed me a number of unpleasant outcomes despite what they are trying to pass off as safe and "green". The process might be environmentally friendly but it puts the health of Southern Manitobans in jeopardy.

The main concern I have is contamination of groundwater with microbes, acids, and toxic heavy metals and how that could compromise the drinking water for Southern Manitobans.

I urge you not to allow Sio Silica to move forward with this project as long as it poses a risk to the people of Southern Manitoba.

Thank you.

Best,

Jannica Reyes Voth
