Comment : I would like to comment on the hog industry. Like any other industry, hog production is growing. With over 9 million pigs in the province last year, the numbers have and will continue to grow. As it stands right now, the industry is destroying our lakes through nutrient loading, and destroying land through toxic waste. The problem will only escalate if this industry is not put in check. It must be made sustainable, which requires capping or reduction of the numbers, as well as stricter environmental requirements on growing these animals. Thank you for your time.
